

The SLINGSHOT Fellowship

An 18-month intensive to equip young Jewish philanthropists with the skills they need to deepen their impact in the Jewish community and beyond.

Participants will gain

- 1 A fundamental appreciation for what it means to be a philanthropic leader
- 2 A stronger awareness of their role in the community and how to apply their power and influence as agents of change
- 3 A deeper understanding of their personal theory of impact
- 4 Practical tools to be more effective in the organizations they are involved in
- 5 A strong relationship with an organization or a mentor in their field of interest

The Fellowship is for

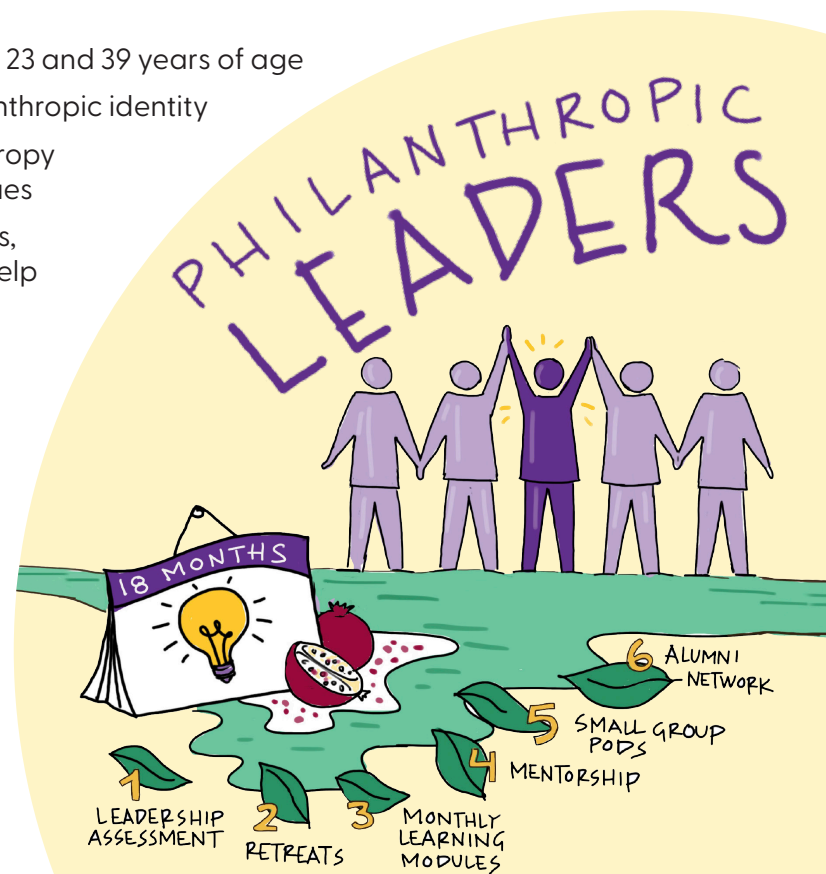

- Young philanthropists between 23 and 39 years of age
- Funders ready to explore philanthropic identity
- Leaders who relate to philanthropy as an expression of Jewish values
- Donors who dedicate resources, time, money, and networks to help solve a problem in the world
