

Policy Whitepapers

Massive Science is the content and media company that gives science a voice. We deliver bleeding-edge science coverage and expertise authored by a growing community of over 1,000 scientists comes from over 500+ institutions, 150+ fields, and 50+ countries. Our audiences know that our content is unrivaled.

Working with our team of professional editors and trained in successful science communication, Massive delivers actionable policy papers and digital content that will better inform policymakers and concerned citizens.

Our scientists cut through the rhetoric to clearly communicate the most promising trends. Their in-depth expertise allows them to clearly tell the reader what they must know, today.

Our custom content is both evergreen and urgent - depending on your needs and timeline.

We offer some of the most current and relevant custom content, for a reasonable price. Custom content packages, including white papers start at less than $20K. Discounts are available for non-profit and government clients. For more information, contact sales@massivesci.com.